About INOV

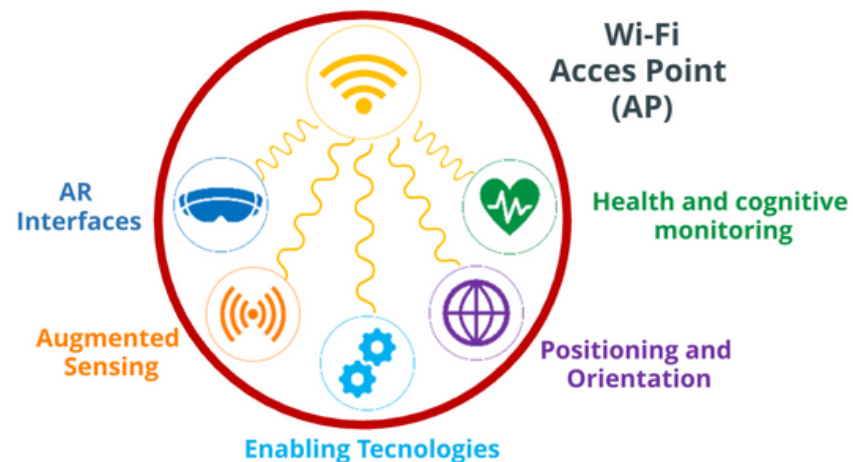

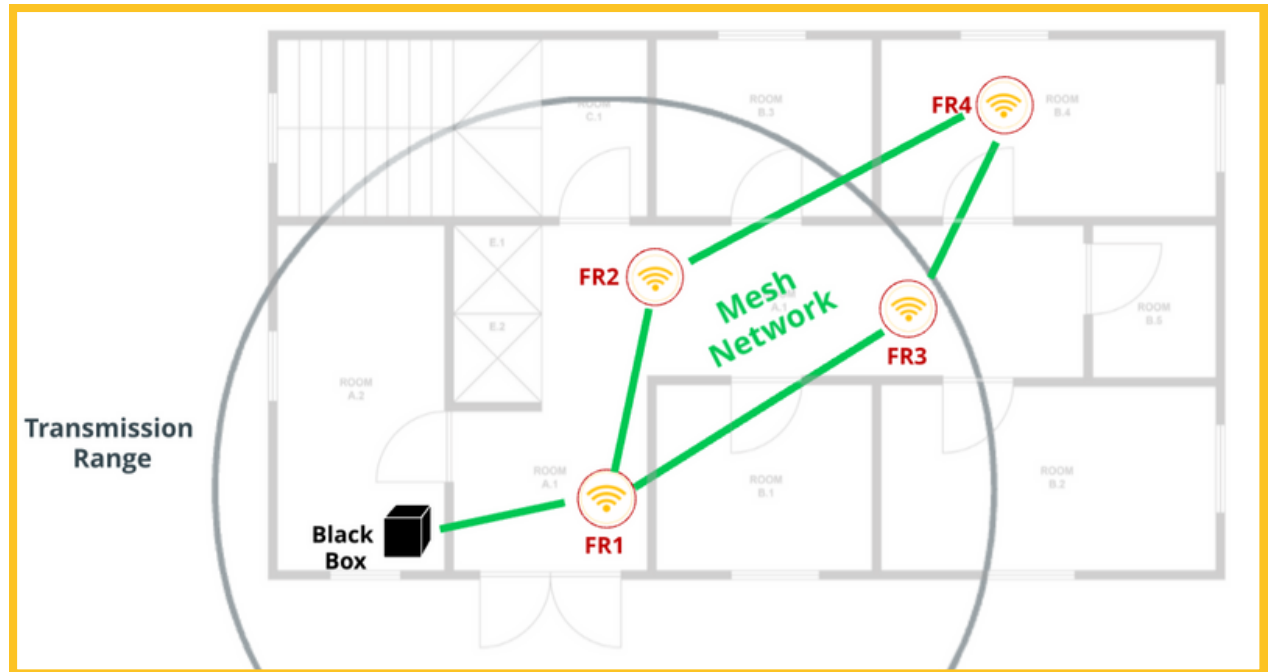

INOV - INESC Inovação is one of the largest Portuguese R&D infrastructures dedicated to innovation in the areas of ICT and Electronics.

A private non-profit institute that fosters relations between Higher Education Institutions and society and the economy, with a view to increasing their competition.

How it works

- Customized communication gateway module, hosted by each team member
- Provides a self-organised intra-first responder ad hoc communication network
- Independent from established telecommunications infrastructures, which may be absent or damaged
- Supported in a mesh network topology for increased coverage
- Allow first responders to collaborate efficiently and securely
